

David Bradford (Penn. Farmer)

1. In what ways do Pennsylvania farmers feel that the federal government has treated them unfairly?
2. How have the government's war bond policies contributed to the farmers' suspicions?
3. Why does Bradford believe a property tax would be fairer than the excise tax on whiskey?
4. Why does he object to trials for defendants in whiskey cases being held in Philadelphia?
5. What defense does he offer for acts of violence by farmers?
6. What action does he advocate to resolve the crisis?
7. What lessons does Bradford draw from the American Revolution?
