

In the table below, enter all of the arguments that you should consider in deciding whether to use force against the farmers or to choose some other action. Work with your partner to develop the fullest set of arguments that you possibly can. Be sure you consider what the likely consequences will be if Washington did or did not use force in this case. After your team has finished its brainstorming, each student will make an individual decision and justify it.

The Question: Should Washington use troops against the Pennsylvania farmers?
Arguments for Using Troops	Arguments against Using Troops

1 of 1