

Introduction Paragraph Sentence Starters:

- Throughout history, _____ has played a significant role in _____.
- One of the most significant aspects of _____ is _____.
- _____ is a complex issue that has influenced _____ in many ways.

Topic Sentence Starters:

- Another key factor in _____ is _____.
- A major effect of _____ is _____.
- The significance of _____ can be seen in _____.
- To understand _____, it is essential to consider _____.

Evidence Sentence Starters:

- According to _____, _____.
- One example of this is _____.
- A primary source from this time states, "_____."

Analysis Sentence Starters:

- This evidence suggests that _____.
- This is important because _____.
- As a result, _____.
- This demonstrates that _____.
- This connects to the larger idea of _____ because _____.

Transition Words and Phrases: Transition words are words or phrases that help connect ideas in writing, making it flow more smoothly. They show relationships between sentences and paragraphs by adding information, showing cause and effect, making comparisons, providing examples, or concluding thoughts.

Adding Information:

- Furthermore
- In addition
- Moreover
- Additionally
- Not only that

Showing Cause and Effect:

- As a result
- Consequently
- Therefore
- Because of this
- Thus

Comparing and Contrasting:

- Similarly
- In contrast
- However
- On the other hand
- Unlike

Providing Examples:

- For example
- For instance
- To illustrate
- One such case is
- Specifically

Concluding or Summarizing:

- In conclusion
- Overall
- To summarize
- Ultimately
- In the end